

It is too risky to defuse the bomb directly on the class machine. Therefore, when I set out to do this lab, I referred to an online method, which modified the executable code to make it possible to defuse the bomb locally. In this folder, the executable program “bomb” is the modified version. The Text Document “answers” is the six answers to the six bombs.